EAGLE RADIO PRESS RELEASE

PRESS RELEASE: Eagle Radio's 'Local Heroes' award ceremony returns for 2013

The date for the second annual Eagle Radio Local Heroes celebration is set for the 12th September.

There will be twelve categories to choose from to nominate your community heroes, and this year will include new additions.

Last September at G Live, over a hundred people were present for a special performance from award winning artist Lemar. Other acts that performed at the previous ceremony include local band The Stanley Blacks, John James Newman, and ukulele orchestra Ukejam.

Managing Director of Eagle Radio, Paul Marcus, is delighted the event is returning for 2013; 'We're really looking forward to the 'Local Heroes' promotion because it gives absolutely everyone in Surrey and Hampshire the chance to get involved. Eagle Radio believes that we should celebrate our community champions, and this fabulous initiative gives people the opportunity to nominate their own local hero.'

Local Heroes is open NOW for nominations, and will close on Sunday 14th July 2013. A panel of selected judges will review each nomination, with two winners ultimately receiving awards from the twelve categories. Further information about how to nominate your Local Hero can be found at: www.964eagle.co.uk

Winners will be invited along to the special celebration event on the evening of Thursday 12th September.

Ends.
