

PRESS RELEASE: Do you know a local hero? Nominate them now!

There is still time to submit a nomination for Eagle Radio's annual Local Heroes awards.

Local Heroes was created to celebrate the many hard-working and selfless individuals across Surrey and Hampshire.

The categories include:

The Music Award, which celebrates the success of local musicians, groups and choirs- locally and nationally.

The Sports Award, which is open to both amateurs and professionals, and highlights personal sporting achievements.

The Military Pride Award, which praises serving members, veterans and community supporters of locally-based Armed Forces.

The Young Person Award, for inspirational Under 18's who are creating a better future for themselves and others.

Lewis Mason, Evening Show Presenter and Local Heroes Co-ordinator, is pleased that the event is returning for a second year:

"Eagle Radio's Local Heroes allows the people of Surrey and Hampshire to praise those who go above and beyond, achieve incredible success, or make a real difference to their community.

"Something that each nomination seems to have in common is that the nominee doesn't see what they do, or have done, as special.
